PROJECTS

Dream-Bags | HTML, CSS, Java, Servlet, JSP — Aug 2026 [\[GitHub\]](#) [\[Live Demo\]](#)

- Built a full-stack e-commerce web application for a bags and accessories store, handling user authentication, product browsing, cart, and a multi-step checkout flow (address, payment, order confirmation), following a layered DAO-Service-Servlet-JSP architecture.
- Designed and implemented the MySQL schema and JDBC data access layer across 10+ entities (users, bags, cart, orders, payments, addresses), using PreparedStatements throughout to prevent SQL injection and manage database connections safely.
- Implemented session-based login with role-aware navigation, and built an admin flow for adding new products to the catalog without touching the database directly.

Sentiment Analysis WebSite | HTML, CSS, Java, Servlet, JSP, JDBC, Collections — Sept 2026 [\[GitHub\]](#)

- Built a web application that allows users to upload a text file, which is processed on the backend to perform sentiment analysis and display results on an interactive dashboard
- Implemented text parsing and word classification logic using Java Collections Framework to count positive and negative words and calculate an overall sentiment index
- Designed the backend using Servlets and JSP to handle file uploads and render analysis results, with JDBC used to store uploaded files and analysis history in MySQL
- Displayed results on a dashboard UI showing total positive/negative word counts and a sentiment score indicating whether the overall text leans positive or negative
